Sunday School and Related News for May

By the time you read this, we will have held our 3rd and final Family Worship Sunday of the year and enjoyed a Call to Worship from our gr 4-6 class. Our spring events have arrived so quickly. We look forward to a visit from Camp Haluwasa, Mother's Day, Youth Recognition Sunday, Field Day, Teacher Recognition Sunday, Graduate Sunday, Canoeing, and the Summertime 40 Minute Club programs.

Up Coming Events

- ◆ Directors from Camp Haluwasa will be with us on May 5th. We will see a video about the camp programs and talk about the different programs available to the kids. Remember, we offer $100 camperships to anyone wishing to attend a Christian camp this summer. Our young people have really enjoyed this camp immensely. Feel free to speak with the directors and take home a brochure.
- ◆ On Mother's Day, each class will make a Mother's Day gift for their moms in their Sunday School classes. Kits will arrive and teachers will lead the way.
- ◆ Youth Recognition Sunday will take place on May 19th this year. Our youth will be recognized for their attendance, leadership, and evangelism. We will also be offering a special treat. Everyone in Sunday School will be making ice cream sundaes on this special day, thanks to one of our members who thought the kids might like to have a treat. They thought this was a wonderful idea!
- ◆ Teacher Recognition Sunday will take place on June 9th. We will be recognizing the dedication of our teachers, teacher's aides, support staff, and sponsors on this day. It is the combined efforts of all these faithful servants that enables us to share God's word and love. It is always such a special moment to recognize the adults who have helped pave the way.
- ◆ During the month of May, we will have 40 Minute Club sign ups for parent and other adult volunteers willing to lead a class 1-2 Sundays during the summer. Lessons and crafts are provided. Once again we will have two age groups: grades K-3 and 4-7. Last summer we averaged about 8 kids per group per week.
- ◆ Stay tuned for the upcoming June events. They will include Teacher Recognition Sunday, Field Day, Canoeing, Graduate Sunday, a Father's Day project that Dad is going to love, and whatever else God has planned for us.

See you on Sunday,
Priscilla

Lions and Lambs will be making over 100 "First Night Kits" with A2J to complete our Pennies for Pins Fund-raiser for the Atlantic City Rescue Mission. Thanks to all for your support.

We have also launched our 3rd and final fund-raiser of the year to support our own Mission Team for their summer mission project. With the extraordinary help of guest speaker, Ms. Loretta Metz and Ipad tech support from Scott Sabo, the children were more engaged than ever in understanding storm devastation and our mission as Christians to help one another when disaster strikes.

After collecting spare change in the water bottles on Sunday, May 5th, we'll be going to the beach in Brigantine for our "Footprints in the Sand" walk, followed by a picnic of fellowship. Pray for good weather!!!

Senior High Youth News

It has been another wonderful year, but all good things must come to an end. Senior youth will be wrapping up our year May 6th and I will be stepping down.

7 years ago I went on session and was part of the Christian Ed. Committee. At that time there was a small conflict with the current YG director, and we didn't know if he would show up for the YG meeting. Loretta Metz and I covered for him. It was a great group of kids. They asked Jack if he would partner up with me, he said yes and we have watched these kids grow into amazing adults.

Kendal will now be joining Jack officially as the Senior Youth Group Co-director and I know she'll do a great job! I will be taking everything I learned about teenagers and applying it to my son who will be attending EHT HS in the fall.

This has been such an amazing experience for me. Thank you for allowing me to be a part Senior Youth Group.

My pearl of wisdom from this experience: Step out of your comfort zone. When there is a "need" in the church.....go for it!

Thank you!!!
Karen

WOMEN'S CIRCLES

We will continue to study Peter's letters to the early Christians. The people he is writing to are no longer living in the Holy Land. They have been dispersed and are living in what is now present-day Turkey. Peter is concerned that these early Christians leave a good impression with the Gentiles they are living among. He advises them to copy Christ and to live lives that are above reproach. This month we will look at Peter's instructions to wives and how they should honor their husbands. We will also see what he has to say to the husbands. I'm sure we will have a lot of discussion on this lesson.

The Ruth Circle will meet at 1:00 p.m. Friday, May 3rd at the home of Betsy Cunius. The Sarah Circle will meet in Cobb Lounge at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, May 8th. The Martha Circle will meet at 10:00 a.m. Thursday, May 9th in the home of Carol Thomas. All women of the church are encouraged to join us for study and fellowship at the circle that best meets your time schedule. You will be warmly welcomed.

Christian Readers Book Club Wednesday, May 22, 6:30pm

Please join us on May 22 at 6:30 for the Christian Readers Book Club meeting. We are reading Calico Joe by John Grisham.

In the summer of 1973 Joe Castle was the boy wonder of baseball. The greatest rookie any one had ever seen. The kid from Calico Rock, Arkansas dazzled Cubs fans as he hit home run after home run, politely tipping his hat to the crowd as he shattered all rookie records. Calico Joe quickly became the idol of every baseball fan in America, including Paul Tracey, the young son of a hard-playing and hard-throwing Mets pitcher. On the day that Warren Tracey finally faced Calico Joe, Paul was in the stands, rooting for his idol and also for his dad. Then Warren threw a fastball that would change their lives forever.

There are 35 copies in the Atlantic County Library system.

Mission/Evangelism News

Last month we replaced the washer in the Bakley House. Jenifer's stepfather passed away in April. She has been working and going to school so her three brothers have been helping her out with her children. Please keep her in your prayers.

News from the Deacons

Finally, we are seeing some signs of Spring and hints of warmer weather to come. Deacons have been busy this Spring as we last met on March 23 and put together 24 Easter goodie bags for various members of our church. A sincere thank you to everyone who helped deliver these bags.

Our church hosted the evening Maundy Thursday community service, and we set up and helped serve communion to about 80 people. Deacons have also given out 45 meals to about 28 recipients. We thank Kris Jenoriki for keeping the freezer stocked with ready to go meals!

The next Deacons meeting will be on Tuesday, May 7, at 6pm in Cobb Lounge. We will stay to report to the Session at 7pm.

Church to Host Cross Country Walker on May 4

Mr. Chris Followay, a cross country mission walker, plans to be in our church May 4 as part of his journey. He will do a Minute for Mission on May 5 assuming everything comes off as planned.

News from Our Missionaries

Greetings from Prague,

Spring is finally in the air. We have had a nice few days of warmer weather and sunshine. One can also tell the weather is warming up and summer is coming by the increase of tourists all around town. This spring will be busy for me because I have many work related trips scheduled. Just after Easter I had the opportunity to travel to the town of Vsetin in the southeast part of the Czech Republic to visit our Evangelical Church of Czech Brethren (ECCB) Diakonie Center. Our Center there has many projects including work with the disabled and the elderly. Another area of work is with the Roma community there. The Roma, or Gypsies as many of us know them, have lived throughout Europe for hundreds of years. Once a nomadic group they have been forced to settle by the governments and cultures of the countries throughout Europe in which they live. Sadly, discrimination is often a part of their lives, as are unemployment and substandard housing. Our Diakonie center is working to bring the love of God to their lives through a ministry of caring and advocacy. They serve several Roma families in and around Vsetin. In addition to providing support for the basics of life, like housing, they also work with the children and youth through various activities intended to help them socially and to encourage their participation in school. It was very educational and moving for me to witness God's love tangibly at work.

I am so grateful to all of you for your support and encouragement. I hope you will continue to pray for me and my ministry here in the Czech Republic. Please pray for the Roma and for the ministries like our ECCB Diadonie who work with them.

May the joys of the Risen Christ be with each and every one of you,
Karen

Modern Day Moses

I asked to change my seat on the plane because I wanted a window seat - 19F. It was 5:45 AM and I knew I would sleep on the plane as soon as I could. I was one of the first people on, got settled in my seat and I saw two women walking down the aisle carrying babies with a 3 year old in tow. I watched as they looked at the seat numbers and then the younger of the two women stepped into row 20 and promptly sat down in F - right behind me. She was holding a little girl, less than a year old, who has Down's syndrome. The other woman, stepped into my row and sat next to me with a baby boy who also looked to be less than a year, but much bigger than the girl. Then there was also a 3 year old boy. I greeted the woman and we both took a short nap! When I woke up, I heard the woman behind me talking to the little girl in her arms. "You're going to America." "You are going to have your very own room, a Mommy and Daddy and 2 big brothers!" "You are so sweet."

I was touched deeply as I began to piece together the story. The woman behind me was adopting the little girl. The woman next to me was the grandmother and the two boys were the natural born sons of the woman behind me. I began to talk to the grandmother sitting next to me. She told me that they had been in the Ukraine for 5 weeks going through the process of adopting this little girl with Down's syndrome. The little girl, Stephaniya, was born to a young Ukrainian couple. When they found out she had Down's they were overwhelmed. In the Ukraine, Down's children are not accepted. The mother would have to find a way to keep the baby inside. Stephaniya would never go to school and would be rejected by the community. When the mother and father made the decision to put her in an orphanage, they also knew that within 4 months, Down's babies are usually transferred to a mental institution where they then live out the rest of their life. Olga, Stephaniya's birth mother, did not want this to happen, so she began to research adoption agencies that helped special needs children get adopted out of the country. She found one and then filled out papers and more papers to try and secure a family overseas that would raise her daughter in an environment where she was accepted and valued. That is when this family stepped in.

As I listened to the story and was also reflecting on what I heard the adoptive mother say to Stephaniya, I thought - Wow, this little girl not only has an adoptive mother who values her and will provide a loving home for her - she also has a birth mother, who given her circumstances, did the best thing she felt she could do for her daughter - give her up in order to give her a future.

It reminded me of Moses' mother. She let him go in order to save his life.

What an amazing sacrifice being made by both mothers. One choosing a life WITHOUT her daughter so that the daughter might live better and the other choosing a life WITH her daughter so that the daughter might live better. A common goal, achieved by two women in very different ways - yet these two women are forever connected to one another through this beautiful little girl. An incredible picture of the value of one person and the extreme measures we humans will take in order to give one human being the opportunity to live life to the fullest. Did I mention how very thankful I was to have asked to change seats? That change put me in a position to see and witness a modern day Moses! God bless Stephaniya and both her mothers! Happy Mother's Day to all mothers who sacrificially love!

Stewardship Committee Report

Our Church is very fortunate to benefit from the forethought of Bob McMullin and his wife, Jinny. When he and Jinny wrote their last will, they remembered the time they shared together in Absecon including the significant part the Presbyterian Church played in their lives. He left a major part of his estate in trust for our Church. As a result, we have been able to maintain and add to our property and programs – something we could not have done if we were to rely solely on your pledges. The trust will produce an annual income to supplement your giving for the rest of this century.

On Sunday, May 5th there will be an insert in the bulletin providing information you will find instructive when you engage in estate planning. Those of us who have or are coming to the end of our working years, raised our family, paid off the mortgage and are now out of debt, should be planning how our remaining assets are to be distributed. Unfortunately, as you will read in this insert, only 40% of Americans have a will and fewer than 20% of those who do include a charitable bequest such as the church they have been a member of and attended for much of their lives.

While no church should rely solely on bequests to finance its operation, as in the case of the McMullin Trust, we find it certainly enhances our ability to set goals beyond those available if we had to rely solely on your pledges.

Please read the May 5th bulletin insert and consider remembering the Absecon Presbyterian Church in your will as you plan how your estate will be distributed. If additional guidance is desired, contact any member of the Stewardship Committee and we will put you in touch with the appropriate person.

April Thank You

April was a very active month, even though our Easter events were all over by then. We want to thank everyone for specialized help, and if we missed you, we're sorry.

- Jan Cobb and the bell choir for an outstanding performance on April 14. Enjoy the summer off.
- Kris Jenoriki and the 28 volunteers who came out on work day. We had six young people join our group and we are most appreciative for their help. Lawns were fertilized, windows washed, the kitchen cleaned, chairs wiped down, some painting and plumbing accomplished, and mulch spread at the manse, church, and School Street houses. We can't ever remember so much being accomplished so quickly.

- Prayer shawls were dedicated again on April 14. Two were distributed that week. Thank you to all who made so many, especially Ethel Washington.
- Scott Sabo and Karen Muldoon for the 2nd Monday of the Month Luncheon slide show displayed in worship on April 14.
- Jerry Hoenes and Gay Channell for the pictures displayed before worship on April 21.
- Nancy Sooy for the delicious dinner and Joanie for the arrangements for our congregational event on April 20.
- Woody Duncan and his friend, Bradford, for installing the new track lighting over the banner in the vestibule. Looks good, guys.

Pastor's Sister Dies on April 16

After four years of battling cancer our pastor's sister passed on to the arms of her Savior at Fox Chase Cancer Center just north of Philadelphia.

Our pastor grew up with her and their brothers in East Norriton, PA. She is just 19 months younger than him. They went to school and Houghton College together.

Betty was a licensed physical therapist and practiced here and on the mission field. She and her husband Roger founded churches in Peru and Venezuela until the political situation became untenable. They brought their four children home to Oreland, PA in the 1990's where they purchased a house and Roger continues to serve the Evangelical Free Church as a mission director and educator.

Sadly, Betty died of cancer similar to that which took their mother's life over ten years ago.

Services were at the First Presbyterian Church of Norristown on April 20 where the Cobbs grew up. They were conducted by Rev. Bill Caraher, a long time family friend and classmate of the pastor while they were in Seminary. She is buried by her parents in Washington Memorial Park in Plymouth Meeting, PA.

Dear Deacons,

Once again I thank you for the home prepared meals, soup and of course, the chocolate chip cookies. You really provide such a wonderful service. I know everyone that receives these, feel as I do.

I miss not being able to thank you personally. I so miss all of my friends in Church.

Many thanks,
Betsy Cunius

Rev. & Mrs. Cobb Purchase House on Ridgewood Avenue

Rev. & Mrs. Cobb had settlement on a rancher with an extended mother-in-law apartment and two-car garage on April 15. The blue house is situated on a one acre plot at 339 Ridgewood in Galloway. They will be moving in gradually and plan to retire there eventually.

The house is convenient to Galloway stores and their daughter, Laura Kay, and her family.

The Call of First Responders

“Be faithful unto death and I will give you the crown of life.” ~ Rev. 2:10

As our church readies itself for another summer of mission activity I am once again impressed by the risk and courage of first responders – those people whose task is to go and render immediate assistance. The risk became real to us on 9/11 when hundreds of fire fighters and EMTs were pushing their way up the steps of the World Trade Center against the flow of hundreds of people coming down the steps. Those coming down escaped. Those going up all died. I wonder what kind of training can prepare someone to face the danger and not turn and join the masses fleeing for their lives?

Similar images coming out of West, Texas and of those in pursuit of the Boston Marathon terrorists throwing bombs and grenades remind me that courage, determination and conviction are prime motivators that go beyond a paycheck. How do soldiers deal with the threat of death every day? How does any first responder deal with their own instinct for self preservation and safety when called into duty?

One thing is certain, there are still many people who accept that call. In a world where people seek the easy way and everybody is negative about the motivation and commitment of others. I have yet to hear of a first responder not showing up. They just do. Thank God.

That is also the history and glory of the church. Through danger and persecution, missionaries and church workers went. The prophets were persecuted, Paul was shipwrecked, and countless church planters have faced incredible odds. My own sister, Betty, and her husband, Roger, faced countless threats in Peru when the Shining Path and Tupac Amaru terrorists were blowing up power lines, poisoning water supplies, and threatening foreigners. My poor mother prayed for her constantly. They stayed nine years to found a church until their mission board acknowledged it was just too risky. At her funeral many people had stories of her starting Bible studies and reaching out in ways of spiritual first responders. You don't know exactly what you're facing or what the risk is – but you do know you are called to go, so you go.

As churches face decline and a hostile culture, we need to adapt the mind set of first responders. Our calling must overcome the risks. We saw it on the news last week, and we have seen it in every great revival and expansion of the church. Churches that operate with the mind set of first responders do take risks, reach out, and engage in new areas of need. Sadly, churches that do not have that mentality do not take risks, do not appeal to younger people looking for a challenge, and do not move forward. They are in decline.

Clearly, church growth in the future will be more difficult than in the past. A lot of risk taking, uncharted ground, and opposition lie ahead for those who want to move ahead. Resting on tradition and old ways guarantees decline. But some churches see this situation as opportunity. Their “first responders” are seeing growth and spiritual vitality.

We need to be in that number. Our calling must overcome the risk. The stakes are too high to do otherwise.
